

Figures

Figure 4.1: The ‘learning trio’	74
Figure 4.2: The police training hierarchy	76
Figure 4.3: From a curriculum-centred approach to a problem-based approach	79
Figure 4.4: The degree of emphasis between personal, professional and vocational development in each command course	81
Figure 4.5: Number of officers to be trained in the ICC, 2000–01 to 2017–18	83
Figure 4.6: Total budget for running the three command courses, 2006–07 to 2011–12	84
Figure 4.7: Budget for running the three command courses per officer trained, 2006–07 to 2011–12	85
Figure 8.1: Reform framework for building executive capacity in the public sector for better governance	176
Figure 9.1: CSC organisational structure	190
Figure 9.2: PSD organisational chart	201
Figure 10.1: Senior-rank civil service training institutions	219

This text is taken from Sharpening the Sword of State: Building executive capacities in the public services of the Asia-Pacific, edited by Andrew Podger and John Wanna, published 2016 by ANU Press, The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.