

List of figures

Figure 1. Paul Henderson, minister, second from right, and guests on the fifth-floor balcony of the Northern Territory Parliament House, 2005.	17
Figure 2. Paul AE Everingham, Member of the Legislative Assembly.	23
Figure 3. Charlotte Waters Telegraph Station, near the South Australian border, included a store and post office	37
Figure 4. Finke River Mission, September 1905.	39
Figure 5. Tiwi people on Bathurst Island, January 1941, with Bishop Gsell.	40
Figure 6. Transfer Ceremony, 2 January 1911.	46
Figure 7. Catholic Mission School at Arltunga, January 1947.	49
Figure 8. Train (Commonwealth line) with new engines, Northern South Australia, January 1920	51
Figure 9. The first Legislative Council, 16 February 1948.	59
Figure 10. First Legislative Assembly sitting, 19 March 1975, in the cyclone-damaged chamber. Corrugated iron sheets in right foreground were used to channel rainwater away from members' desks	60
Figure 11. Mission Aboriginals [sic] working in a carpentry shop, May 1968	65
Figure 12. Alice Springs High School from Anzac Hill, October 1958. This was the site of the Adult Education Centre and it became the first home of the Alice Springs Community College in 1974	70
Figure 13. Electrical experiments at Darwin High School adult training classes, 30 June 1967	71

Figure 14. Darwin Primary School in January 1957, it later became Darwin Higher Primary and then Darwin High School. This building in Woods Street became the Adult Education Centre under principal Harold Garner 74

Figure 15. Apprentice training in the former World War Two railway workshops in Katherine, February 1974. David Handley, first-year apprentice and Robert Scott, trades foreman 78

Figure 16. Opening ceremony of the Darwin Community College by HRH Prince Philip; Prime Minister Gough Whitlam is on the right. 82

Figure 17. Goff Letts, former Chief Secretary of the Northern Territory 87

Figure 18. Elizabeth Andrew, February 1974 90

Figure 19. Jim Robertson, Member of the Legislative Assembly, February 1974 95

Figure 20. Ministers of the new Northern Territory Government, 1 July 1978, swearing-in ceremony. 100

Figure 21. Darwin Community College looking towards Alawa, April 1979 103

Figure 22. Geoff Chard (Left). 105

Figure 23. Industry Training Commission, first meeting, 1 July 1980, Geoff Chard at far right 107

Figure 24. Jim Eedle. 108

Figure 25. Dhupuma College, February 1975 109

Figure 26. Training Centre, Stuart Park, September 1981. 114

Figure 27. Ray McHenry 117

Figure 28. Training. Calf-tagging training for secondary school students. 121

Figure 29. Restaurant interior, Gillen House, Alice Springs 122

Figure 30. Tom Harris 133

Figure 31. Geoff Spring 139

Figure 32. The Honourable Terry McCarthy	142
Figure 33. Former Minister for Education and Training, Shane Stone	157
Figure 34. Ministers Fred Finch, Shane Stone and lecturer Kym Livesley celebrating the new course 'Introduction to Mining Law' at the Northern Territory University, April 1993	170
Figure 35. The Honourable Fred Finch handing over motorcycles for licensed training	172
Figure 36. Palmerston Campus.	173
Figure 37. Peter Adamson, Member of the Legislative Assembly, January 2001	179
Figure 38. The second Burke ministry, 1 August 2000	183
Figure 39. Former Kargaru School, November 1996	189
Figure 40. Students with Minister Stirling at a government- sponsored breakfast in Alice Springs, May 2003.	192
Figure 41. Peter Plummer, centre, served as the Chief Executive of three different Northern Territory Government agencies in addition to being the Principal of Batchelor College	197
Figure 42. Batchelor Institute of Indigenous Tertiary Education, 2011	210
Figure 43. Marion Scrymgour (left) being sworn in as a member of the ninth Northern Territory Legislative Assembly on 16 October 2001	215
Figure 44. Margaret Banks, the Chief Executive of the Department of Employment, Education and Training, introducing Minister Scrymgour, at the far left, during the January 2006 scholarships and bursaries awards ceremony held at Parliament House.	216
Figure 45. Minister Henderson preparing to present prizes at the Teaching Excellence Awards ceremony at Parliament House, October 2009	217

Figure 46. Minister Burns, second from right, overseeing the celebration of a Charles Darwin University lecturer's 40 years of teaching. 219

Figure 47. Robyn Lambley, Member of the Legislative Assembly, with the Mayor of Alice Springs, Damien Ryan, joining in the celebrations at the Alice Springs campus of Charles Darwin University recognising 25 years of university-level education in the Northern Territory, June 2014 235

This text is taken from Vocational Education and Training: The Northern Territory's history of public philanthropy, by Don Zoellner, published 2017 by ANU Press, The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.