

Acknowledgements

The editors gratefully acknowledge that this project was funded from the research project 'Australia and the European Union: A study of a changing trade and business relationship', (LP0990000) supported by the Australian Research Council, as well as the European Australian Business Council, the European Commission, the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry and the Department of Industry and Innovation.

This text is taken from Australia, the European Union and the New Trade Agenda, edited by Annmarie Elijah, Don Kenyon, Karen Hussey and Pierre van der Eng, published 2017 by ANU Press, The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.