Acknowledgements

The China Economy Program (CEP) at the Crawford School of Public Policy of The Australian National University (ANU) acknowledges the financial support for the China Update 2018 provided by the ANU China initiative. We thank the program support and editing assistance provided by Dr Elizabeth Buchanan and our colleagues from the East Asia Forum at The Australian National University. The China Update 2018 marks 40 years of China’s economic reform and 20 years of CEP research. We sincerely thank our contributors around the world for their valuable contributions to the book series and update events throughout these years. Thanks also to the ANU Press, notably Emily Hazlewood, and copyeditor Jan Borrie for their expeditious publication of the book series. We thank the Social Sciences Academic Press (China) of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences in Beijing for translating and publishing the Chinese version of the book each year—making this valuable research available to a wider readership.