

List of illustrations

Map A.1 Timor Island	xx
Plate 1.1 An East Timorese procession in Raknamo resettlement site, Kupang, October 2012	14
Map 1.1 Timorese ethnolinguistic groups.	17
Map 2.1 East Timorese migration to West Timor during Portuguese colonisation	36
Plate 2.1 East Timorese from Bobonaro in Atambua, 1974	40
Plate 2.2 East Timorese children in Tuapukan camp, one of the few camps established in 1999 remaining in Kupang district	42
Plate 2.3 East Timorese resettlement site in Oebelo, Kupang district, housing Fataluku-speaking people from Lautem district.	43
Plate 2.4 A Fataluku woman in her house in Oebelo Atas resettlement area in Kupang district	45
Plate 2.5 Resettlement site for East Timorese in Kabuna village, Belu district, housing Kemak people from Atsabe	45
Map 2.2 Number and location of East Timorese in West Timor, 2016	46
Map 2.3 East Timorese ethnolinguistic groups in West Timor, 2016	47
Plate 3.1 Registration sticker identifying a house occupied by East Timorese, Belu district.	64
Plate 4.1 SALIMAGU Gallery, a cloth-weaving (ikat) business initiated by the Atsabe Kemak in Belu district	93
Plate 4.2 Atsabe Creative House, a computer and internet business initiated by the Atsabe Kemak in Belu district	94

Plate 5.1 The Mambai from Holarua in Kereana village, Belu district	102
Plate 5.2 Ada Malae and ada Timor of the Idate people in Oekfoho village, Belu district	115
Plate 5.3 The author (in white T-shirt) with Idate elders in Oekfoho village, Belu district	115
Plate 6.1 East Timorese women in Naibonat camp prepare to usher the provincial military commander into the chapel	135
Plate 6.2 Boni (wearing tie) and his big family in Naibonat, Kupang district	136
Plate 6.3 Francisco (Sico) Ximenes (in brown batik shirt) attends Boni's daughter's graduation party	140
Plate 6.4 Boni celebrates his daughter's graduation	140
Plate 7.1 Banner for Arnaldo Tavares, the chief of UNTAS in Belu district	149
Plate 7.2 Campaign poster for East Timorese politician Fatima Ferrao, from the National Mandate Party	151
Plate 7.3 Campaign poster for East Timorese politician Agustinho Pinto, from Gerindra (who was elected to office)	152
Plate 7.4 An East Timorese rally in front of the NTT governor's office, September 2017.	155
Plate 8.1 The new generation of East Timorese casting their vote during the 2013 election for NTT governor	164
Plate 8.2 Pro-autonomy East Timorese in Raknamo, Kupang district, performing a traditional dance, wearing the scarf of Timor-Leste	167
Plate 8.3 The new generation of East Timorese in Naibonat camp (one is wearing a Fretilin t-shirt) have accommodated symbols of resistance in their identity	167

This text is taken from Divided Loyalties: Displacement, belonging and citizenship among East Timorese in West Timor, by Andrey Damaledo, published 2018 by ANU Press, The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.