Transcription of Thai

The transcription of Thai follows the system prescribed by the Royal Institute of Thailand with the following exceptions:

\[ j \ (\text{jo jan}) \] instead of \[ ch \].

Wat Khao Or instead of Wat Khao O.

Khun Phan’s descendants spell the family name as Phantarakrajchadech (Phantharakratchadet).

Jatukham-Ramathep, the transcription used here, is the way most central Thai speakers pronounce the name. Southern Thai speakers who are less influenced by central Thai culture often drop a vowel in the second term: Jatukham-Ramthep.