

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Map 1.1. The Okhotsk region . . . . .	6
Figure 2.1. Japanese map and accompanying image of peoples of the world, 1671 . . . . .	26
Figure 2.2. Fifteenth-century map of the Iberian Peninsula . . . . .	28
Figure 2.3. Hayashi Shihei's Illustrated Outline of the Three Countries [ Sankoku Tsūran Zusetsu ], 1785 . . . . .	33
Figure 2.4. Map of the Integrated Territory of Historical Countries and their Capitals [ Honil gangni yeokdae gukto jido ] (The Kangnido ), 1402 . . . . .	35
Figure 2.5. The Hereford wall map. . . . .	37
Figure 2.6. Abraham Ortelius's world map, Theatrum Orbis Terrarum , 1570 . . . . .	39
Figure 2.7. English world map based on Blumenbach's classifications, 1849 . . . . .	43
Figure 3.1. Map of Tartary based on de Vries' voyage, 1682 (Original by Giacomo Cantelli da Vignola) . . . . .	48
Figure 3.2. Illustration from Witsen, showing 'Yakut, Kalmyk, Kyrgyzian Ostiak and Daurian Tungus' peoples . . . . .	52
Figure 3.3. Engraving of a 'Kamchadale' woman from Krasheninnikov's Opisanie Zemli Kamchatki . . . . .	56
Figure 3.4. Thomsen expounding the 'three age' system, illustration by P Marquardt, 1846 . . . . .	65
Figure 4.1. Okhotsk culture grave, Abashiri . . . . .	85
Figure 4.2. Nivkh drying fish, early twentieth century . . . . .	91

Figure 4.3. 1807 map of Ezo . . . . .	93
Figure 4.4. Ainu with dog sleigh. . . . .	95
Figure 4.5. Sakhalin Ainu blacksmiths . . . . .	101
Figure 5.1. The Astrolabe and Boussole at anchor off the island of Maui . . . . .	110
Figure 5.2. People of Tomarioro as seen by La Pérouse's expedition . . .	111
Figure 5.3. Frontispiece from La Pérouse's atlas . . . . .	114
Figure 5.4. Tsukinoe, an Ainu elder from Kunashir, wearing a brocade robe, painting by Kakizaki Hakyō . . . . .	119
Figure 5.5. La Pérouse's map of Sakhalin . . . . .	127
Figure 5.6. The trading post at Deren. . . . .	132
Figure 5.7. Portraits of Sakhalin Ainu 'Niskani, Aoucanouri and Erougantoï' of Tomarioro. . . . .	135
Figure 6.1. Golovnin being taken prisoner in Japan, c. 1811 . . . . .	145
Figure 6.2. Prisoners in the Sakhalin penal colony . . . . .	152
Figure 6.3. Arsen'ev with Dersu Uzala, 1906 . . . . .	153
Figure 6.4. A Japanese settlement in the Habomai Islands, c. 1920 . . .	156
Figure 6.5. 'The Northern Region of East Asia'. . . . .	158
Figure 7.1. Traditional Uilta summer houses on the outskirts of Otasu. . . . .	167
Figure 7.2. The Ainu 'model' village of Torandomari . . . . .	172
Figure 7.3. Colonial modern housing in Otasu. . . . .	175
Figure 7.4. A reindeer herd near Otasu. . . . .	179
Figure 7.5. Kawamura Hideya teaching a class at the 'native school', Otasu . . . . .	183
Figure 7.6. Indigenous people hunting marine mammals near Otasu . . . . .	187
Figure 7.7. Uilta needle case, early twentieth century . . . . .	188
Figure 8.1. Illustration from Charles MacFarlane's Japan . . . . .	201

Figure 8.2. John George Bartholomew, 'Maps of the Far East, Illustrating Russo–Japanese War', 1905 . . . . .	204
Figure 8.3. Memorial for convict labourers near Abashiri . . . . .	226
Figure 8.4. The Jakka Duxuni, Abashiri, 2011 . . . . .	229
Figure 8.5. Uilta embroidery: (above) by Kitagawa Aiko's Japanese students; (below) by Kitagawa Aiko . . . . .	231

This text is taken from On the Frontiers of History: Rethinking East Asian Borders, by Tessa Morris-Suzuki, published 2020 by ANU Press, The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.