

List of figures

Fig. 2.1	Census and survey based age-specific Indigenous movement rates, Australia, 1996 to 2008	17
Fig. 2.2	Indigenous movement propensities by State and Territory, 2002 and 2008	19
Fig. 2.3	Net effects of socioeconomic, spatial and household characteristics on Indigenous mobility: Logistic regression results, 2008	23
Fig. 2.4	Median duration of residence in current dwelling by age and remoteness, 2008	25
Fig. 2.5	Duration of residence in current dwelling by age, 2008	26
Fig. 2.6	Completed durations of stay and proportions remaining, 2008	27
Fig. 2.7	Segmenting chronic movers from long term stayers	28
Fig. 3.1	Total fertility rates, Indigenous and total populations, Australia, 1998–2009	37
Fig. 3.2	Teenage fertility rates, Indigenous and total populations, Australia, 1998–2009	37
Fig. 3.3	Indigenous age-specific and total fertility rates, Australian States and Territories, 2009	38
Fig. 3.4	Total fertility rates and cohort size, births to Indigenous women in Australia, 1998–2010	43
Fig. 6.1	Children within contexts of influence	80
Fig. 6.2	Child development in the context of the lifecourse	83
Fig. 6.3	Proportion of Indigenous children in excellent or very good health, by age, Australia, 2008	86
Fig. 6.4	Proportion of Indigenous children with ear or hearing problems, by age, Australia, 2008	88
Fig. 6.5	Proportion of Indigenous children with eye or sight problems, by age, Australia, 2008	88
Fig. 6.6	Distribution of Indigenous children aged 0–14 years by SEIFA deciles, Australia, 2008	92
Fig. 6.7	Relative odds of excellent or very good health in Indigenous children, by constructs of socioeconomic status, Australia, 2008	96

Fig. 6.8	Relative odds of excellent or very good health in Indigenous children, by household income, Australia, 2008: Simple and full models	96
Fig. 8.1	Proportion employed (excluding CDEP) by age group, Australia, 2002 and 2008	131
Fig. 8.2	Proportion employed (excluding CDEP) by education, Australia, 2002 and 2008	132
Fig. 8.3	Remote locations: Proportion employed and in CDEP, Australia, 2002 and 2008	134
Fig. 9.1	Butchered remains of a feral water buffalo near Mumeka outstation, Arnhem Land	163
Fig. 9.2	Map of the Indigenous estate and discrete Indigenous communities, 2010	165
Fig. 10.1	Poverty by family type, Australia, 2008	200
Fig. 10.2	Poverty by household size, Australia, 2008	200
Fig. 10.3	Poverty by household type, Australia, 2008	201
Fig. 10.4	Discrimination by equivalised income quintile, Indigenous Australia, 2008	213
Fig. 12.1	An integrative model of crowding	257
Fig. 12.2	Example from Musharbash's description of the Aboriginal value of intimacy in Warlpiri single women's households	261
Fig. 12.3	Population distribution within Pipalyatjara on eight survey occasions, 1992	263
Fig. 12.4	Family group mobility at Pipalyatjara based on three census times, 1992	264
Fig. 12.5	Settlement plan of south-west side of Ti Tree Township, Aboriginal campsites occupied and unoccupied, 2005–06	265
Fig. 12.6	A house built at Ngukurr, Northern Territory, 1998–99	267
Fig. 13.1	Proportion of Indigenous people reporting experiencing discrimination in past 12 months, by remoteness and strength of cultural identity, Australia, 2008	296