Asia-Pacific Security
Contents

Notes on Contributors
Preface

1 Australia and Asia-Pacific security after September 11: an introduction
   David W. Lovell

2 The challenge for Australian foreign-policy professionals
   David W. Lovell

3 The rhetoric of Australia’s regional policy
   James Cotton

4 Australia’s strategic options in the US-China relationship
   Allan Behm

5 China and Asia-Pacific security building in the new century
   Zhu Majie

6 China’s efforts as a responsible power
   Xia Liping

7 The knowledge-based economy in China: perceptions and facts
   Tian Zhongqing

8 China’s ‘New Security Concept’ and Southeast Asia
   Carlyle A. Thayer

9 Chinese nationalism and its foreign policy implications
   Zhang Jian

10 Japan’s missile defence dilemma
    Aaron Matthews

11 Security and stability in Southwest Asia
    William Maley

12 Mediating the global order: the past and future of Asia-Pacific regional organizations
    Michael Wesley

13 The constructivist challenge to the debate on East Asian security in the new century
    Chen Dongxiao

14 Australian-American relations in the new century: applying resuscitation or pursuing illusions?
    William T. Tow

Index