Pursuing Livelihoods,
Imagining Development
Smallholders in Highland
Lampung, Indonesia
Pursuing Livelihoods, Imagining Development
Smallholders in Highland Lampung, Indonesia

Ahmad Kusworo
Contents

Foreword ................................................................. ix
Acknowledgements .................................................. xi
Glossary................................................................. xiii
1. Introduction ............................................................ 1
2. Lampung in the Twentieth Century: The Making of ‘Little Java’ ................................................. 17
3. Creating a ‘Wealthy Zone’: Sumber Jaya and the Way Tenong Highland ................................. 41
4. Local Politics: Bringing the State to the Village ................................................................. 73
5. Resource Control, Conflict, and Collaboration ................................................................. 93
6. Gunung Terang: Social Organisation of a Migrants’ Village ................................................. 111
7. Social Stratification in Gunung Terang ................................................................. 139
8. The Farming Economy in Gunung Terang ................................................................. 153
9. Conclusion ................................................................. 167
References ................................................................. 177
List of Tables

2-1 Population of Lampung Province, 1930–86 25
2-2 Land use and production data for Lampung Province, 2000 38
2-3 Population density and poor families in Lampung Province 39
3-1 Total villages and ‘left-behind villages’ in Lampung Province 56
3-2 Population, poor households, and ‘left-behind villages’ by sub-district in West Lampung District, 2000 57
3-3 Area, population, population density, and poor families in Sumber Jaya and Way Tenong sub-districts 64
3-4 Land ownership in selected hamlets in Sumber Jaya and Way Tenong sub-districts 70
6-1 Population of hamlets in Gunung Terang village 115
8-1 Coffee garden production in Gunang Terang village, 1998–2002 155
8-2 Inputs and income from a 1-hectare coffee garden, 2002 156
8-3 Inputs and production from a 1-hectare rice field, 2002 157
8-4 Inputs and income from 1500 small chilli plants, 2002 159
8-5 Inputs and income from 2 rante of ‘big’ red chilli, 2001 160

List of Maps

2-1 Lampung Province 21
3-1 Sumber Jaya and Way Tenong 46
5-1 Forest Land Use Plan (TGHK) of Lampung Province, 1990 96
6-1 Gunung Terang village 114

List of Plates

5-1 Members of a community forestry (HKm) group in Rigis Atas 104
6-1 Semendonese houses in Gunung Terang 112
6-2 A house belonging to wealthy Javanese in Bedeng Sari 116
6-3 Houses in Rigis Atas 117
6-4 Residents of Rigis Bawah doing gotong royong 126
6-5 A shop (toko) in Sumber Alam village market 135
7-1 A motorbike taxi (ojek) 142
7-2 Harvesting coffee 144
7-3 Hoeing a rice field 146
7-4 Harvesting chilli 149
8-1 Weeding a coffee garden 154
For Nana, Alia, and Nabila