

Acknowledgements

A draft version of this manuscript was reviewed by Professor Maggie Walter from the University of Tasmania and Dr John Gilroy from the University of Sydney, and their comments were greatly appreciated. In the process of developing this monograph a number of individuals and groups were consulted including Aboriginal Medical Services Alliances NT (AMSANT), Carpentaria Disability Services, Damian Griffis (First Peoples Disability Network), Anthony Hogan (ANU), Boyd Hunter (ANU), Sven Silburn (Menziess School of Health Research), and John Wakerman (Centre for Remote Health, Flinders University). Comments were also provided by officials from the then Commonwealth Department of Families, Housing, Community Services and Indigenous Affairs (FaHCSIA) and relevant State/Territory Departments. Research assistance was provided by Mandy Yap. Finally, expert editorial assistance was provided by Frances Morphy, Hilary Bek, Clare Brennan and John Hughes from CAEPR, as well as the very helpful staff from ANU Press.

This text taken from Indigenous Australians and the National Disability Insurance Scheme, CAEPR No. 34 Research Monograph, by N Biddle et al., published 2014 by ANU Press, The Australian National University, Canberra, Australia.