The World Forest History Series aims to produce rigorous histories of forestry that inform contemporary environmental policy debates and provide enduring scholarly landmarks for future generations of historians and environmental researchers. The series is affiliated with the Centre for Environmental History at The Australian National University.

Series Editors: Gregory A. Barton, Professor of History, University of Western Sydney, Affiliate, Centre for Environmental History, The Australian National University; Brett M. Bennett, Senior Lecturer in History, University of Western Sydney, Affiliate, Centre for Environmental History, The Australian National University.

Cover design and layout by ANU Press

Cover: Ruth Staples was a courageous Georges River campaigner who lived all her life around Lime Kiln Bay at Oatley West. She kept on fighting to regenerate the river until her death, aged 90, in 2020. Photograph by Mick Staples, Ruth's husband, while on a family holiday at Thredbo, 1966, courtesy Haworth family collection.

This book is published under the aegis of the Environmental History Editorial Board and the Social Sciences Editorial Committee of ANU Press.
